

Legislative Priority Update: Time for Action

The House Leadership Crisis: Ron Paul in the Primaries and Kamala Harris in the Legislative Session

In a stunning betrayal of conservative principles, Representatives Morgan Meyer and Angie Chen Button joined 28 other nominal Republicans in what can only be described as a calculated power grab, installing Rep. Dustin Burrows as Speaker of the House. But the real damage came next.

Through the deceptively named "House Rules" package, they orchestrated what amounts to a wholesale surrender of Republican authority in our state legislature. While maintaining the appearance of Republican control through committee chairmanships, they've handed the Democrats Co-Chair positions and unprecedented power over:

- Committee scheduling
- Witness testimony
- Legislative calendars
- Procedural operations

As Rep. Brian Harrison astutely observes: "In Texas politics, you're either fighting the swamp or you're becoming it."

A Critical Juncture

While Meyer and Button's voting records thus far align more with establishment interests than conservative values, we maintain hope for redemption. Texas faces unprecedented challenges that demand bold leadership focused on our essential priorities:

1. Securing Our Border
2. Safeguarding Elections
3. Strengthening the Power Grid
4. Protecting Our Children
5. Stopping Tax Payer Funded Lobbying
6. Preserving Texas Land Rights
7. Maintaining Sovereignty over personal Transportation and personal Healthcare

Taking Action: The "Turn Up the Heat" Initiative

The Dallas GOP Legislative Priorities Committee has launched an aggressive new campaign to amplify conservative voices across all social media platforms. While we continue our vigilant scoring of Representatives Meyer, Button, Hall, and Parker against our Great Eight Legislative Priorities, we're expanding our influence through strategic digital engagement.

Call to Action

We need every concerned citizen to join this effort. Your social media reach can become a powerful tool for accountability and change in the 89th Legislative Session. Watch for upcoming details on how you can maximize your impact in this crucial fight.

The future of Texas hangs in the balance. The time for bold action is now.

Forward in Freedom,
